Rowing (also called sculling) provides a low-impact, full-body workout. It is popular among patients undergoing cancer treatment and people in remission.

Our Rowing Program takes place at the Great Salt Lake, where rowing is peaceful on a large body of water surrounded by scenic mountains and islands.

For more information, visit www.huntsmancancer.org/rowing