At University of Utah Hospitals and Clinics our goal is to provide excellent health care to every patient. Our patients have the following rights and responsibilities regardless of race, color, culture, language, ethnicity, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, socioeconomic status, age, national origin, physical or mental disability, and /or veteran status:

Information & Communication

- Know the names and roles of those caring for you.
- Communicate with your caregivers in a language or method you can understand.
- Have your personal physician and a person of your choice notified when you are admitted to the hospital.
- Communicate with people outside the hospital by way of visitors, phone, and mail, except when doing so would interfere with your care. Any restrictions will be explained to you.
- Be informed about your health status, recommended treatments, options, risks, and benefits.
- Information about the costs of your care and payment methods.
- Review and receive a copy of your medical record, subject to state law and hospital policy.

Make Decisions

- Be involved with your care through discussions with your caregivers.
- Be informed of benefits and risks of your treatment options, and agree to or refuse a course of action.
- Designate a support person (or persons) of your choosing to be involved in your care when appropriate. You may restrict access of your support person or visitors at any time. University of Utah Hospitals and Clinics will not restrict your support person(s) or visitor based upon their race, color, culture, language, ethnicity, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, socioeconomic status, age, national origin, physical or mental disability, and/or veteran status.
- Direct your care through an Advance Directive. Advance Directives are legal forms which state your choices about the care you want to receive in serious health situations. Advance Directives are also used to name someone to make decisions for you if you cannot speak for yourself. At your request, we will help you create an Advance Directive.
- Choose whether or not to take part in research studies and to have studies explained to you before you decide. Other care will continue regardless of your decision to take part in research studies.
- Seek an alternate doctor or ask for a second opinion.
